§812.15

the preparation of such materials, provided they are of a type similar to those which the Air Force is authorized by law to conduct or prepare. Example: Studies on airport construction, or technical information relating to testing of compounds used in runways.

(3) Training. Training of the type which the Air Force is authorized by law to conduct for its personnel and others or which is similar to such training. Example: Conducting special training for State and local government in areas such as aerial photography.

(4) Technical Aid (Grant-in-Aid and Other). Technical aid in the preparation of proposals for development and other projects for which the Air Force provides grants-in-aid or other assistance, provided such aid primarily strengthens the ability of the recipient to develop its own capacity to prepare proposals. This type of service is not applicable to Air Force at this time.

(5) Technical Information Normally Available. Technical information, data processing, communications and personnel management systems services, and technical advice on improving logistical and management services which the Air Force normally provides for itself or others. Example: Sale of a data processing program used by Air Force for blanket checks.

(b) Any of the above specialized or technical services provided to the States and their political subdivisions under existing authorities will also be provided under title III of the Intergovernmental Cooperation Act of 1968 and the terms of this part.

§812.15 Conditions under which services may be provided.

- (a) Commanders of major commands or separate operating agencies of the Air Force are authorized to provide specialized or technical services only under the following conditions:
- (1) If such services are provided either to State or local governments.
- (2) Upon the written request of a State or local government. The chief executive of such entity normally should address the request to the Air Force commander involved.
- (3) If the Air Force activity provides similar services for its own use. In addition, the requesting entity must certify that it cannot reasonably and expeditiously procure such services through ordinary business channels.

- (4) If the Air Force will not incur additional expenses, including civilian and military personnel costs, solely for the purposes of providing such services, unless such costs are charged to the user.
- (5) If the unit of government making the request fully reimburses or arranges to fully reimburse the Air Force for services, including payment of civilian/military salaries and all other identifiable direct and indirect costs involved.
- (b) If a commander denies a request, he or she should state the reasons for the denial in writing to the entity making the request.
- (c) Technical information provided under this instruction may not be further disseminated to third party governmental agencies, unless expressly authorized by the originating Air Force agency.

§812.16 Processing payments.

Deposit all monies received for specialized and technical services provided to the credit of the principal appropriation which has borne or will bear the cost of such services; for example, deposit to 57*3500 when military pay and allowances is the reimbursable element of cost.

§812.17 Questionable services.

- (a) These services fall within two categories:
- (1) Specialized or technical services not covered in §812.14(a);
- (2) Specialized or technical services requested when there is a doubt as to whether the service is covered by §812.14(a).
- (b) If a commander receives a request for a service described in §812.17(a), and his activity has a special competence to provide it, he should forward the request to AFAFC/XSGB, Denver, CO 80279
- (c) The request will be reviewed and evaluated by AFAFC/XSGB before forwarding it through OASD (Comptroller), Wash DC 20301, to the Office of Management and Budget for action. Appropriate contact with applicable

Air Staff offices will be made by AFAFC/XSGB during evaluation of each request.

Part 807 of this chapter states the procedures for issuing publications and forms to the public.

Subpart A—General

§818.0 Purpose.

This part establishes Air Force policy governing alleged delinquent financial obligations. It outlines procedures for processing claims of this nature. It implements 32 CFR parts 43, 43a and 81. It applies to all active Air Force installations and members and US Air Force Reserve (USAFR) units and members. This part does not apply to Air National Guard (ANG) units and members. This part is affected by the Privacy Act of 1974. System of Records Notice F030MPCB—Indebtedness, Nonsupport, Paternity, applies.

§818.1 Air Force policy.

Air Force members are expected to pay their financial obligations in a proper and timely manner. For the purpose of this part, financial obligations are divided into two categories: Personal indebtedness, and dependent support. As a general rule, the Air Force has no legal authority to require its members or their family members to pay personal financial obligations. Enforcement is a matter for civil authorities. However, the Air Force can, under certain conditions, divert part of a member's pay for debts owed to the United States or any of its instrumentalities (see §818.11) or to satisfy delinquent child support and alimony payments (see §§ 818.15 and 818.16). Administrative or disciplinary action may be taken against Air Force members in cases of continued financial irresponsibility. Such action is taken to improve discipline and maintain the standards of conduct expected of Air Force personnel, but cannot be used to enforce private civil obligations.

§818.2 Explanation of terms.

- (a) A proper and timely manner. A manner which, under the circumstances, does not discredit the Air Force.
- (b) Financial obligation. A legal obligation acknowledged by the member in which there is no reasonable dispute as to the facts, or one reduced to judgment. The judgment must conform to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief
